IconCMO+ pulls together meaningful data from churches and then presents it in a statistical format for use at the regional or district level. This allows you to accurately track and forecast revenue and expenses; develop a quick snapshot of the health of your organization; assess critical information such as number of active members, number of new marriages, baptisms and confirmations, average giving per weekend and much more. Providing statistical information to help you run your churches more effectively is what CMO+ is all about.

Unlike many newcomers to the church management software business, we have been serving the software needs of church and school offices for more than twenty years. In fact, our company has been in business serving churches since 1869! We are uniquely positioned to understand the special needs of the church office and staff. It is our belief that software should be more than a glorified address book. It should be a tool to help your ministry grow.
