Financial Oversight & Responsibilities

ELCA Congregational
Treasurers' and Bookkeepers'
Financial and Accounting
Guide

- See handout in packet*
- Found on ELCA website
- Comprehensive resource
- Updated every couple of years

Responsibilities of the Congregational Treasurer

- Serving as financial officer of the congregation
- Being responsible for payment of all bills, invoices and charges
- Performing or overseeing all of the bookkeeping functions
- Preparing the monthly (or quarterly) financial reports for the church council
- Filing all of the required federal and state tax forms
- Monitoring the cash position of the congregation and investing available funds as directed
- Borrowing funds as directed by the church council
- Providing the congregation with any requested financial information
- Assisting in the preparation of the annual budget for the church council

Separation of Financial Responsibilities

- There should be a separation of duties between those responsible for handling and recording the income of the congregation and those responsible for handling the disbursements of the congregation
- A strong system of internal controls safeguards the assets of the church and protects the character of the individuals handling cash or writing checks
- These suggestions do not reflect a lack of trust, but rather offer protection for the reputation of congregation financial officers.

Separation of Financial Responsibilities

- Written policies and procedures for key responsibilities (not person specific)
- Avoiding conflicts of interest
- Reconciling bank accounts by an individual not directly involved in banking activities
- These same concepts apply to congregational auxiliaries and organizations

Never put just one person in the position of handling cash transactions from beginning to end!

These functions should be the responsibility of someone other than the treasurer (such as financial secretary or stewardship committee):

- Oversee the counting and recording of offerings
 - Train individuals involved in counting the offerings
- Depositing receipts
- Reporting on income/gifts from individuals
 - Report to treasurer on a weekly basis
 - Provide periodic and annual statements to the contributors for tax reporting

Internal Controls & Policies

Internal Controls

- The ELCA Churchwide office has developed guidelines for congregations relating to Internal Control Best Practices (See handout in packet*)
- This document describes major financial activities and related best practices in order to assist the congregation in establishing its own system

Procedures governing the following activities should be in place, reviewed and updated on an annual basis:

- Receipts (Sunday and special offerings)
- Bank account reconciliation process
- Authorized bank signers
- Capital expenditures & loans
- Disbursements
- Payroll & Taxes
- Data security
- Asset classification
- Purchasing
- Records retention
- Regulator and legal compliance
- Code of ethics
- Endowments
- Travel expenses
- Budget process
- Annual congregational audit or review

Handling Congregational Income

Handling of Congregation Funds
General Principles

- Dual custody at all times.
- It is preferred that no cash be stored in the church.
- Several people should be involved on a rotating basis in handling income.
- Log of cash/check activity, including purpose (signed by two persons).
- Copies of deposit slips/reports given to both the treasurer and financial secretary
- It is understood that the recording of income/gifts from individuals of the congregation is a confidential matter.
- Financial reports to the church council and congregation should include all funds, accounts, and investments of the congregation and its auxiliaries and organizations. These should be reviewed and reported on a consistent basis.

Safeguarding Offerings & Deposits
Suggested Steps

- Immediately following the service, two persons carry the contents of the offering plates to a room for counting or placing in an adequate safe for counting the following day. Church funds/offerings should never be taken to a private home for counting.
- The envelopes are immediately opened by at least two persons. Envelopes are marked as to intent and purpose if for other than undesignated offerings.
- Balances between envelope totals and cash/check totals are reconciled.
- A summary report outlining the various accounts income is to be credited to is prepared and initialed by at least two persons.
- A deposit slip is prepared and at least two persons bring the deposit directly to the bank.
- Copies of the summary report and deposit slip are given to treasurer and financial secretary.

Safeguarding Offerings & Deposits
Other Reminders

- Persons involved in handling income should not be involved in handling of expenditures. It is recommended that the treasurer/financial secretary NOT be involved in handling income.
- Funds collected from other activities (fundraisers, special events, etc.) should be directed to those responsible for recording and making bank deposits of these funds. Copies of the deposit slip and summary report are given to the treasurer and financial secretary.
- Congregations should provide quarterly giving reports to their donors.

Recordkeeping & IRS Substantiation Rules

Since January 1, 2007, the IRS requires that all taxpayers who itemize deductions substantiate their contributions by ONE of the following:

- Bank record – such as a cancelled check.
- Written communication from the charity – such as a receipt, statement, or letter - for all cash contributions.

A taxpayer who makes a charitable contribution online should print and retain a receipt of the transaction and not merely rely on the credit card statement

Single contributions of $250 or more

- The IRS requires that contributions, including property, of $250 or more must be substantiated by a written receipt.
- Congregations have the same requirement to acknowledge cash gifts from identified donors by providing a quarterly (optional) or annual (mandatory) statement of giving.
- The statement should include the church name, date, and amount of each contribution.

For single contributions of $250 or more, the statement must:

- Be in writing
- Identify the donor by name
- Describe donations of property but not state a value of the property
- Show separately each individual contribution of $250 or more
- State whether or not the charitable organization provided any goods or services to the donor in exchange for the donation, and if so, include an estimate of the value of those goods and services
- Contain a statement to the effect that "No goods or services were provided to you by the church in connection with any contribution, or their value was insignificant or consisted entirely of intangible religious benefits", if applicable.
- Provide the receipt to the donor on or before the date the donor files a tax return claiming the deduction (no later than January 31)

Quid Pro Quo Contributions

- Quid pro quo contributions are those made by a donor in exchange for goods or services.
- A church or religious organization must provide a written statement to a donor for any payments over $75 when the payment is partly a contribution and partly in exchange for goods and services.
- Inform donors that the amount of the contribution that is deductible is limited to the excess of the contribution over the value of goods or services provided. Provide donor with a good-faith estimate of that value.

Good Samaritan Funds

- ELCA provides guidelines on Good Samaritan/Helping Hands Fund Policy development. (See link on resource page)
- A committee should be the decision-making body in determining recipients.
- It is important that all decisions be made totally independently of donors' suggestions and on the basis of need and other objective criteria. If funds are raised on a case-by-case basis with specific recipients in mind, it is likely that any donations made will not be tax deductible.

Online Giving

- Ensure that two people have login information.
- It is encouraged that donors have ability to set up donation on their own.
- Review and record online giving monthly, providing report copies to the financial secretary for recording to donor's giving record.
- Record donation on the date it was initiated by the donor, NOT when it is posted to the church's account.

Handling Church Expenditures

Handling Church Expenditures Suggested Steps

- Bills and obligations should be approved for payment. A purchase/approval form may be used to approve payments and identify the accounts to be charged. Expenditures should be supported by invoices and/or receipts.
- For online bill payment, an approval process should be developed/maintained.
- Check is prepared someone other than the person approving the expenditure.
- Check is signed by persons authorized under the bank account agreement. Dual signatures are recommended. The pastor should not be an authorized signer.

- Blank checks should never be signed in advance under any circumstance.
- A copy of the check or the check stub should be filed with the original documentation.
- It is recommended that at least three persons should be involved in the above steps.
- Savings and/or Investment Accounts - if the financial secretary and/or treasurer is authorized to initiate fund transfers to/from these accounts by phone or online, it is suggested that an signed approval form be used indicating the date, amount, and purpose of the transfer. This form is to be retained in the files of these accounts.

Accountable Reimbursement Policies

Accountable Reimbursement Policies are simply a method for reimbursing business expenses on an actual-cost basis rather than providing an expense allowance.

The ELCA provides a number of different resources to help understand and establish an accountable reimbursement policy.

Petty Cash Accounts

- Petty Cash accounts should be reflected on the Balance Sheet or Statement of Financial Position.
- The cash should be counted by two people monthly and receipts for disbursements given to the treasurer/bookkeeper to record.
- Petty Cash accounts should be reconciled monthly.
- Cash should be kept in a secure location.

Congregation Credit Cards Best Practices

- Determine whether a credit card is needed.
- Determine who will have custody of the card and be responsible for accounting for all charges.
 - All credit card statements should be reconciled by another responsible person – and all original receipts submitted by cardholder.
- Establish a published policy for the use of the card.
- Determine which credit card is best and which organization will issue it.
- Monitor the activity to ensure that the established procedures are being followed.

Employment in the Church

Gerry Marecek
Synod Council Member

Payroll Tax Obligations

Every congregation must report the income paid to each employee to the IRS. The recommended steps are:

- Determine if an employee or self-employed.
- Employees complete IRS Form W-4 and independent contractors complete IRS Form W-9. Also, state I-9 Form stating eligibility for employment (citizenship).
- Compute each employee's taxable wages.
- Determine the amount of federal and state income tax to withhold from non-clergy employee's wages.
- Withhold FICA taxes from non-clergy employee's wages.
- Deposit withheld taxes & employer's share of FICA according to IRS schedule.

- File IRS Form 941 quarterly (Employer's Payroll Tax Return)
- At year-end, file Form W-2 for all employees and Form 1099-MISC for self-employed workers. These forms are due to the employee by January 31 and the reporting forms are due to the IRS by February 28.
- For clergy W-2's, the housing allowance is always excluded from federal income. Exclude this value from Box 1 of the W-2. It may be included in Box 14 of the W-2, which is merely an information box.
- Churches aren't required to withhold/pay State Disability and Unemployment.

Clergy Considerations

Ordained ministers have "dual status treatment" under the provisions of the IRS Code:

- Ordained ministers are generally treated as employees for income tax purposes, but the IRS exempts ordained ministers from mandatory federal income tax withholding (Code Section 3401a)
- Ordained ministers are treated as self employed for Social Security reporting purposes.

Clergy - W-2 or 1099?

- IRS Publication 517 (*see link on resource page) states that in most cases, ordained clergy are considered to be employees of the congregation and advises that they are issued a W-2 at the end of the calendar year.
- A couple of factors strongly suggest that pastors are indeed employees of the congregation:
 - Employer-paid pension or medical benefits
 - Worker's Compensation Insurance coverage

Independent Contractors

- No employment tax consequences
- Contractor should complete IRS Form W-9 at start of contract in order to secure their Social Security number
- Receives an IRS Form 1099-MISC at year-end if paid $600 or more in a calendar year
- Corporations are NOT issued a 1099-MISC
- The congregation should obtain a Certificate of Insurance from contractor naming the congregation as "Additional Insured" on the contractor's insurance policy.

Other Reporting

Property Tax
Religious/Welfare Exemption

- Religious/Welfare Exemption available only to property which is owned by a church and used for religious worship by a church or school.
- For-profit or other non-religious entities using your property can put your exemption at risk.
- Leased real property is not eligible for the Religious/Welfare Exemption unless the owner of the leased property is also a religious organization and conducts religious worship activities on the property, in which case both the owner and operator must file for the Religious/Welfare Exemption.

Property Tax
Religious/Welfare Exemption

- Annual Reporting – A Claim for Welfare Exemption form (BOE-267A) is completed annually to state that the property will continue being used exclusively for religious purposes in the coming fiscal year.
- In addition, a Welfare Exemption Supplemental Affidavit (BOE-267O) must also be filed to report organizations and persons using organization's real property.

Secretary of State
Statement of Information

- Form SI-100 - Biennial Reporting based on your year of incorporation.
- Report Officers - President, Secretary, and Treasurer
- Confirm address, identify Agent for Service of Process
- Submit with $20 filing fee
- Can submit changes between filings for free
- Failure to submit can result in suspension of corporate status
- Don't know your status? Search by corporation name or number online (*see link on resource page)

ELCA Congregational Report (Parochial Report)

- Letters sent to congregations, with instructions, Congregational ID and password in December.
- Online reporting opens in early January (www.elca.org/congregationreport)
- You can also fill the form out by hand and send to synod office
- All reports due February 15
- Form A - Membership/Financial Information (these questions stay the same each year)
- Form C - Ministry Information (these questions often change each year)
- Form B - Congregation Leadership Directory - (www.elca.org/cld)

Mission Support & Designated Gifts

Benevolence To/Through the Synod

- Pacifica Synod & ELCA Churchwide operate on a February 1 to January 31 fiscal year.
- Congregation contribution reports are distributed several times a year and shortly after the fiscal year-end.
- Congregation contributions are categorized as Mission Support (undesignated gifts) or Restricted/Designated Gifts (those to ELCA, Lutheran, or local organizations.)
- All contributions are distributed monthly to the recipient organizations.

ELCA Churchwide Benevolence

- Currently, 51% of Mission Support (undesignated gifts) received by Pacifica Synod is sent to the Churchwide organization to support the work of the church.
- Restricted/designated gifts received from congregations for ELCA ministries (World Hunger, Lutheran World Relief, Malaria Campaign, Global Mission, missionary support, etc.) are distributed monthly via a ACH transfer to the ELCA.

Treasurer's Remittance Statement

- Crucial to the accurate processing and reporting of congregational gifts.
- Available to download from Pacifica Synod website (*See handout in packet)
- Please provide complete names and addresses of any new organizations that you are contributing to!
- Clearly (print!) name and contact number of person completing this form.

Budgeting & Financial Reporting

Setting Financial Goals The Budget

- Establishes financial goals and overall objectives
- Plan for revenue and expenditures to support activities congregation has decided to undertake
- Constitutes good internal control
- Once established, it is Treasurer's responsibility to report on a consistent basis. Significant deviations should be highlighted and investigated.
- Please help the synod plan by submitting your Mission Support amount/percentage
 - Mission Support Intent (*See handout in packet)

The Budget Process

- Appoint a budget committee
- Committees determine an estimate of their budget needs for the coming year
- Financial secretary develops estimate of income
- Budget committee compares budgets submitted with anticipated income, creates draft budget and presents to Church Council
- Council reviews budget, makes any adjustments and presents to congregation for approval
- If not approved by congregation, goes back to committee and steps are repeated
- Open forums or budget hearings prior to presentation to congregation may be helpful

Effective Budgets

- The congregation should have clear objectives and goals stated in dollar amounts
- The budget must be well thought out and approved by the Church Council and congregation
- The budget needs to be owned by every member of the congregation. Participation in the process by as many people as possible is critical for support
- Financial statements prepared on a timely basis and comparison made to the budget

Budget Types

- Zero-based Budget – Starts at zero, every item must be justified as to its need and benefit
- Same as last year – Starts with last year's budget, adds increases or makes minor adjustments
- Unified Budget – Incorporates all groups budgets into one budget
- Program Budget – Puts all expenditures into various program categories. Salaries may be prorated
- Line-item Budget – Groups individual items under categories and further lists each item
- Narrative Budget – Tells a story and gives a vision of ministry for presenting the budget

Creating Meaningful Reports

- At a minimum, the financial statements should consist of a Balance Sheet (Statement of Financial Position) and Statement of Revenue and Expense (also called a Statement of Activity). A Statement of Changes in Cash Position is also very desirable.
- The financial statements should be designed to meet the needs of the user.
- Financial reports should be prepared on a timely basis.
- The format should be simple and easily understood.
- The reports should have a point of comparison, such as comparison to budget or comparison to last year.
- Reports should provide the needed detail for decision making.
- The treasurer should include a verbal or written report which points out critical items and areas.

Congregational Financial Review

What is an Audit/Review?

Generally an audit (also called a financial compliance review) is comprised of a number of tests of the various transactions that occurred during the year.

These tests, along with questions and inquiries made by the auditor(s), lead to an opinion about the appropriateness of the financial statements.

Why Have an Audit?

- To obtain independent assurance that all financial records fairly represent the financial condition of the church;
- To insure that the year's financial activity has been properly recorded in accordance with generally accepted accounting principals;
- To insure adherence with the policies and procedures established by the congregation;
- To maintain confidence in the integrity of the congregation's financial system and the persons responsible for handling the finances.

Why Have an Audit?

Conducting an audit is NOT a symbol of distrust. It is a mark of responsibility.

It is good stewardship demonstrated for all to see.

It is a message to congregation donors that you care about their gifts.

ELCA Recommendations Regarding Congregational Audits

- The ELCA does not require that its congregations have an audit every year, but it highly recommends the practice.
- An audit may be performed by an outside audit firm, the congregation's audit committee or individual congregant(s) with a financial background appointed by the church council.
- At the very least, individual congregants working under the direction of the audit committee should review the church's financial records each year.

The Audit Committee

- Appointed by the church council.
- Comprised of at least three voting members of the congregation, excluding the treasurer and the financial secretary.
- It is preferable that they are individuals with some training in accounting procedures.
- The committee, with approval, may secure outside help on a fee basis from an independent, professional accountant.
